College Students

As we move through August our college students begin to look to campus. As you prepare for this move, whether it be for your first year or as you look to go back for your last couple of classes, I once again want to share with you some thoughts from my time in college ministry.

Dear students, I know life can feel crazy and so hectic in college. You have all kinds of things going on in your life, so many new things coming at you so fast, so I want to share with you some hints to make it a little easier. Some I have stolen, some I have adapted, and others come straight from me.

1. Make God the center of all you do. Get to Mass every Sunday and Holy Day of Obligation, go to Mass on weekdays, go to Adoration. Set aside some time to pray every day, write your prayer time into your schedule, make it a priority. If you do that, if you make God the center of your everything, life will be better, not necessarily easier but certainly better. If you pray every day, if you make God the center of your life, you will stay out of a lot of trouble while still being able to have a great deal of fun and although life won't always be easy, you will know that God is with you especially in the hardest times.
2. Try new things. Join the rugby team, check out the Chess Club, or History Club, maybe the Medieval Club or any old club, meet the weird kids down the hall, maybe that's you. Certainly, college is about education and learning but it is so much more enjoyable if you try new things and meet new people.
3. Search out your schools Catholic Campus group. It might be a Newman Center, perhaps your campus has FOCUS (Fellowship of Catholic University Students) or SPO (St. Paul's Outreach), maybe it is a Catholic Club or maybe it is the nearest Catholic Parish. While at school stay close to your Catholic Faith, find those groups that will help and support you in your journey of faith. If you can't find it on your campus let me know, I'll track it down for you, or talk to the local priest and bug him until he comes up with a ministry for college students.
4. Attend the events your school has to offer: hockey games, national trail mix day, science fairs, dance marathons, pie eating contests, pie throwing contests...whatever. You will never know if it was worth it unless you try it.
5. PRAY! Pray regularly, pray that you will make good friends, friends that will build you up; friends that you will have for a life time, pray for big bags of candy, pray that you get care packages of chocolate chip cookies. Pray for the people around you that are not making good choices. Pray that you will be able to get through all that life will throw at you this year. Pray in thanksgiving for all that God has given you. Pray for yourself, your parents, siblings, high school friends, for your priest, PRAY.
6. Call home often...I am not sure if you are aware, but as you go through a huge transition in your college years, so do your parents. Your mom and dad really want to know what is going on in your life, and even if you fought like crazy with your brothers and sisters, they still need you...so call them...and call them often.
7. If you make a mistake, and we all do, admit it and get to the Sacrament of Reconciliation let God's loving forgiveness wash over you, so that you can move on and not make the same mistake again. Try to find friends that will push you to grow in your faith and that will hold you accountable to who you want to be.
8. Get to know your professors, go to your classes, do your homework, read your assignments, get to the library. It sounds obvious and I am sure everyone has told you the same things, that's because it helps. It is so much easier to pass your classes if you have actually been to class and done the course work, trust me, I know from experience, the other way really doesn't work that well.
9. HAVE TONS OF FUN! There are so many amazingly fun things that you can do in college. Do them...play games, be goofy, have fun! Remember the words of St. John Bosco: "Enjoy yourself as much as you like – if only you keep from sin." So have fun, lots of fun, but don't let your fun lead you into sin.
10. Pray, get to Mass, come to Reconciliation and remember always: You are infinitely loved by your heavenly Father and are wonderful in His sight.

Peace and God Bless my friends.

Fr. Todd
